

Lord we come before you and lift up the workers in the city of Sydney, we ask that you continue to show your mercy and compassion on us, as we seek to be led and guided by you each day.

Lord we pray for the workers in Sydney that we turn our hearts to you. Lord we ask for forgiveness for the times we stray from your calling and fall short of your standards.

Lord we ask that you aid the Christian workers in the spread of your Gospel, we pray for boldness and courage to stand as Christians and to show compassion, love and generosity to our colleagues, regardless of who they are or what they believe, that we may be good witnesses and an encouragement to those we work with.

We pray your blessing on the Businesses in Sydney that we continue to provide jobs and employment for the people in our community, to provide a future for the younger people entering the workforce, and opportunity for those that have newly come to this country to secure their futures.

We pray for the business leaders and people of influence in our City, Father we ask that you help them make wise choices, you give them the courage to build morally upright organisations, that they put their people before profit. We pray the Business leaders take to heart the responsibility they have for their people and the communities they are in, that they may have a heart of service to those around them.

Lord finally we ask that there is a spirit of unity amongst the Christian workers in the city, that together we may seek to bear witness to the truth of Christ. We pray that we stand strong in the hard times and that we remain faithful in the good times.

In the name of Jesus we ask this. Amen.
