

Dear Lord

We thank you for the beauty and vibrancy of this city and how it sits on such a wonderful part of your creation, Sydney Harbour. Many of us feel called to serve you in our places of work and some here today have risen to senior positions in their chosen career, be it banking, legal, wealth management, accounting, communications, advisory, IT, politics and many others.

Loving Father, we pray for the courage to act as you would have acted, taking honest and ethical decisions and showing deep respect and concern for our colleagues. We pray for the resolve to remain true to you, all the time walking in humility. We ask for the wisdom to remember that any financial rewards that come to us are treated for what they are.....your assets and not ours.

We pray for the strength to retain a balance in our lives such that our other responsibilities ..... family, friends, church and the broader community ..... are not neglected as we respond to the demands imposed on us in the city.

Through the way we go about our professional lives, may those with whom we work catch a small glimpse of the beauty that is a reflection of your Son.

These things we pray in Jesus' name

Amen

Richard Grellman